Pension for Agricultural Workers

4327. MISS SAROJ KHAPARDE: Will the Minister of LABOUR be pleased to state:

(a) whether there is any proposal under Government's consideration to give pension to all agricultural workers after attaining sixty years of age;

(b) if so, the details thereof and if not, the reasons therefor; and

(c) the welfare measures being implemented by Government for the old agricultural workers who cannot work in field due to old age?

THE MINISTER OF LABOUR (SHRI M. ARUNACHALAM): (a) and (b) All States and Union Territory Administrations are running old age pension schemes under which pension is granted at varying rates to old persons generally beyond the age of 65 years with relaxation for destitutes, widows, disabled and in certain cases to agricultural workers and females. Some States like Andhra Pradesh, Kerala, Tripura, West Bengal, Gujarat are running separate schemes for agricultural workers. The Government of India also announced a National Social Assistance Scheme (NSAS) for the poor which inter-alia contemplates old age pension @ Rs. 75/- per month to destitute persons over 65 years of age.

(c) In addition to the above there are several schemes for the benefit of the poor and the old. A scheme for the life insurance of the IRDP beneficiaries came into force in 1988. Social Security Fund operated through LIC subsidises insurance premia for 23 approved occupations including farmers. The Personal Accident Insurance Scheme of GIC for poor families has been extended to all destitutes in the country since August, 1988. There are also schemes for the insurance of cattle, live-stock, agricultural pump sets, fire insurance cover for huts and belongings of landless labourers etc..
